How many are your works, O LORD! The earth is full of your creatures.

Parish News

Summer Youth Minister: Jenna Pepka

Hi, my name is Jenna Pepka. I have been a parishioner at Saint Bonaventure Catholic Community my whole life and I am so excited to work with the youth this summer! Some fun facts about me: I grew up in Bloomington, and am currently going to the University of Mary working towards a Bachelor's Degree in Biology Education. I was part of Saint Bonaventure's Core Team for three years while I was in high school. I love to paint, read, hike, paddleboard, and spend time outside. I cannot express how excited I am to help the youth this summer by putting on events that will further their faith and love for our Lord. I believe it is important to build a community where every member strives towards a common goal. I hope to ignite the passion and zeal that is waiting to be released in the heart of the younger generation. If you have any questions or suggestions, do not hesitate to reach out and ask. I would love to hear the input of those who belong to this community. I can't wait to see what the Lord has in store for the youth this summer.

Graduation Mass: Sunday, June 12

Sunday, June 12 at 10 a.m. Mass we will celebrate ALL our graduates—High School, College, Trade School, etc.!

Fr. James will pray a special blessing for our graduates as they begin a new chapter in their lives. If you would like to receive the blessing, please come forward when called by Fr. James. We will have cake after Mass to celebrate this special day. Caps and gowns are optional.

We would love to have all Saint Bonaventure graduates join us for this wonderful celebration. Please contact Rebecca, rebeccan@saintbonaventure.org, 952-297-8424 with any questions.

Everyday Stewardship—Recognize God in Your Ordinary Moments

Do You Speak Stewardship

If you are married, I'm guessing that you know the best way to break bad news to your spouse, whether you realize it or not. Maybe it's simply that you know not to talk about the budget after your wife's football team has lost. Maybe you know your husband will take the news that your sister is coming to stay a little easier if you tell him over his favorite dinner. We do the same thing with our children, our friends, our coworkers — we have all learned the language of the people we love.

The truth is the same in every language, but it's important for us to convey that truth graciously. That's what Pentecost teaches us. The gift of being able to speak in tongues afforded the Apostles a practical skill to spread the Gospel message, but it also served as a powerful symbol of the importance of effective communication. Evangelization can only happen when you're speaking in words a person is able, ready, and willing to hear.

Let's ask ourselves: what is the language we need to speak to share the truth with the person who is standing in front of us? Is it the language of quality time? The language of concern? The language of laughter and friendship? The language of authenticity, of plain talk and frankness?

The Holy Spirit gave the Apostles the ability to speak in tongues, and it seems miraculous when we read about it in the Gospels — but only consider that we all have this same ability, in a certain way. The Holy Spirit can and will show us how to speak the truth, if we only ask. — Tracy Earl Welliver, MTS

Archdiocesan Opportunities

What would you like to tell Pope Francis?

In spring 2021, Pope Francis announced that the Catholic Church would engage in a synodal process that includes “listening to all of the baptized” in every diocese around the world. What would you like to share with Pope Francis? Now is your chance to say what you think the Catholic Church needs to focus on today.

The survey can be found at archspm.org/vaticansynod, and it will be the only broad consultation offered for this Vatican Synod. Learn more about the Vatican Synod.

Encourage Deeper Understanding of Scripture

Pentecost Sunday Gospel Meditation

Even though Pentecost is rightly celebrated in late spring, the robust experience of a New England fall can provide a profound metaphor for reflection. A full expression of fall colors is beautiful to behold. But, with all of its majesty and beauty, the observer knows the experience of death is soon to come. Creation will be dark and barren for a while. Pentecost cannot be separated from the cross. Before God’s transformative, life-giving power can bear fruit, we must first die.

Pentecost is all about leaving the lifeless dead wood behind and allowing God, through the power of the Holy Spirit, to create something new. These Pentecost creations happen repeatedly over and over again. The birthing process of the Church is ongoing. God is always bringing life out of death and creating something where there was once nothing. That is why the fall is such an apropos metaphorical season for Pentecost. In order to really receive the gift of the Holy Spirit we have to die to what we once knew and what no longer works.

When fire and wind find their fullest expression, they are in no way gentle nor kind. They have the potential to level anything in their paths. We are experiencing great turmoil in our world, nation, and our Church. Whether the result of circumstance or the work of the Holy Spirit, much of what we knew to be normal and constant is changing. Common systems and institutional structures that may have worked for a time no longer do. When the old and familiar need to be left behind, God creates something new. Change and disorder do not need to be our enemies. They always bring opportunities for something exciting and new. What we need is untiring faith, firm hope, and perfect love.

What we need is for the Holy Spirit to enlighten us to see what is important and what we must do. “O Holy Spirit, descend plentifully into my heart. Enlighten the dark corners of this neglected dwelling and scatter there Thy cheerful beams.” (St. Augustine) If we experience joy, even in the midst of turbulence, then we will know we are exactly where God needs us to be. If not, then perhaps there is a lesson in the decaying leaves that graciously descend to the ground on a crisp fall day.

“The Advocate, the Holy Spirit whom the Father will send in my name, will teach you everything and remind you of all that I told you.” (JOHN 14:26)

The materialism of our society lures us to concentrate more on what we want than on what God wants for us. The relativism of our world tells us that we should be tolerant of all things, that there is no absolute truth. Pray to the Holy Spirit to transform our lives and to guide our thoughts, words and actions. What you put in your head, heart and mind affects your actions. Put good things in and good things will come out.
